This weekend marks a critical junction in the season for the Bulls, with two games against the fourth-place team in the Central Division.

ALL-TIME SERIES:

IN A NUTSHELL:

North Iowa leads, 4-2-0 (won first three matchups in October).

LAST TIME OUT:

North lowa snagged two of the four available points last weekend against the Aberdeen Wings, taking both games to the bonus session before falling by 4-3 counts – after reaching the shootout on Friday, Will Gilson ended Saturday's game with a successful wrist shot just more than halfway through overtime. The Bulls got off to a roaring start, though, with Justin Mexico rescuing a pass and sweeping it to the back post for a goal 1:38 into the game and Carter Rapalje scoring on an odd-man rush at 2:14. Will Gilson first appeared on the score sheet at 4:34 of the contest, though, trimming the score to 2-1 going to the second period. A wrist shot from Ronan Walsh wiped away the lead at 1:28 of the second period, giving the Wings their third power play goal of the weekend, and Jacob Bosse's goal 9:03 into the second period gave the Wings their first lead. A drag across the front of the net and a toss to the twine from Byron Hartley tied the game with 5:24 remaining in the period, and none of the 15 shots in the third period made their way into the cage. Gilson's winner with 2:16 remaining came after crossing over to the right half, beating Kyle Kozma and sending the Wings back to Aberdeen with a sweep. Cade Neilson closed the night with two assists, and Anton Castro made 36 saves for the win, while Kozma took the loss despite 27 stops.

TONIGHT'S PROMOTIONS:

The Bulls welcome their billet and player families to this weekend's games, and this evening's game is also the first of two home games in North Iowa's jersey auction weekend – proceeds from Saturday's postgame jersey auction will benefit Mason City Parks and Recreation.

SPEAK NOW, OR...:

If North lowa is going to make its playoff push, this may be the weekend to do it – the Bulls currently sit seven points back of the fourth and final Central Division playoff spot with eight games to go. The final team slotted into the playoffs is the Minot team that North lowa faces this weekend – with a sweep, the Bulls could find themselves as close as three points out of fourth place with six games to go, putting them right in the hunt with three weeks left. A sweep going the wrong direction, however, likely puts the Bulls 11 points off the pace, and just two points away from postseason elimination.

HE'S A HANDFUL:

Forward Byron Hartley has been a literal handful for the Minotauros this season, posting five goals in six meetings against Minot. His best showing in the series, by far, came on January 15 in a 5-4 North lowa victory at the Maysa Arena – Hartley picked up two goals, including the game-winner, and an assist. The Bulls got every period started the right way that night, posting a goal in the first two minutes every time out of the locker room.

HOMING IN ON THE POSTSEASON:

A busy home stretch continues, with the Bulls on home ice for eight of their last 10 games. Both remaining road games are scheduled as part of homeand-home weekends against first-place St. Cloud, against whom four of the Bulls' final six games will be played.

BACK WITH A VENGEANCE:

Forward Logan Dombrowsky spent six weeks on the injured list, but returned with a smashing performance last Friday against Aberdeen, notching three assists in his first appearance since February 5, just before his trip to the NAHL's Top Prospects event. His three points tied a career high, and his three assists set a new one – his only prior three-point performance came September 17 with two goals and an assist at the NAHL Showcase against the Amarillo Wranglers.

TOUGH-TO-TAME TAUROS:

There aren't many teams that have been tougher to hold down than Minot when going into the final 20 minutes – the Minotauros have come back from a deficit at the second intermission for six wins this season. Only New Mexico (seven wins) has a better mark, and Jamestown is the only other NAHL team to match it. Colby Joseph leads the way against North Iowa, with eight points in six appearances against the Bulls.
